Brock Fleming was a happy, healthy and energetic 7 year old boy. He had a loving smile, caring heart and infectious laugh, the kind of kid you would never forget. But in an instant, his life had changed forever. On May 4, 2016, Brock fell and hit his head, leading to a series of events that resulted in his diagnoses with DIPG brain cancer. Despite the radiation treatments, trial drugs, and natural supplements he underwent, he kept a cheerful attitude and was determined to kick cancer in the nuts. He educated everyone on sharks, killer whales, and dinosaurs and was considered an artist among his friends known for his drawings of killer whales. When Brock grew up, he wanted to work at Sea World and train marine animals. Brock's strength and courage brought an entire community together, shedding light to this silent, yet deadly, pediatric cancer. Sadly, Brock passed away on December 10th, right before Christmas.

The Cure Starts Now -Texas Austin/Round Rock Chapter is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization started Melissa and James Fleming in honor of their son Brock. Thanks to the efforts of many companies around the nation, CSN is able to provide funding of experimental treatments and research hospitals around the world. Yet, there is still so much more left to be funded...
